

Ischgl season finale with Eros Ramazzotti

Now it's official: International superstar Eros Ramazzotti will end the Ischgl ski season at the legendary "Top of the Mountain Closing Concert". On 30 April 2023, the Italian pop-rock icon will stand at an altitude of 2,320 metres on the famous Ischgl Stage. A climatic end to a hopefully equally brilliant winter season.

On 30 April 2023, Ischgl celebrates the season finale with the "Top of the Mountain Closing Concert". Closing act: Eros Ramazzotti. The international superstar will perform on the legendary Ischgl Stage from 1pm. The 59-year-old multi-instrumentalist will be performing classics such as "Se Bastasse una Canzone", "Cose Della Vita" and "Adesso Tu". Furthermore, the singer with the cuddly voice will also perform songs from his new album "Battito Infinito". His unmistakable vocal power will ensure a unique and guaranteed unforgettable concert experience against the backdrop of the snow-covered Silvretta Arena. Admission to the concert is included in the valid ski pass at a special rate. In addition, day ski passes for 30 April 2023 can soon be purchased online at www.ischgl.com. Due to its high altitude the pistes of the Silvretta Arena are open for winter guests until 1 May 2023 – snow guaranteed. For all those who want to really enjoy springtime in the snowy mountains, the "Spring Blanc" event series provides special skiing moments on the slopes until the last day of the winter season and presents a colourful programme full of culinary delights and music. Eros Ramazzotti: simply Italy

With 14 studio albums, around 150 platinum awards, more than 70 million records sold worldwide, two billion streams and almost 2 billion views on YouTube, Eros Ramazzotti is one of Italy's most popular and successful artists. The Roman, born in October 1963, celebrated his first international successes throughout Europe in 1986: his studio album "Nuovi eroi" rose to the top of the charts in Italy, Austria and Switzerland and reached gold status in Germany. In 2011, the multiple ECHO award winner received the "Golden Camera" in the category "Best Music International". Ramazzotti has already sung with music greats such as Tina Turner, Joe Cocker, Anastacia, Ricky Martin and Helene Fischer. In addition to his music, the star is an enthusiastic soccer player. As a member of the "Nazionale Italiana Cantanti" soccer team, in which Italian singers play for charity, he has already taken part in 222 tournaments and scored 127 goals
